A sample of households in this area will be included in a nationwide survey of home upkeep and improvement expenditures conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles, announced that householders will be interviewed during the period, June 27-July 10.

The survey is taken four times yearly to provide a continuing measure of this segment of America's economy. The sample of households here are among the approximate 6,000 throughout the United States that will be asked about alterations, repairs, and additions to their homes.

Total expenditures for the upkeep and improvement of residential properties amounted to $18.8 billion (seasonally adjusted annual rate) in third quarter 1973, up from the rate of $17.0 billion for the second quarter. More than half ($10.7 billion) was spent for construction improvements such as additions, alterations, and major replacements. The remainder ($8.1 billion) went for maintenance and repairs.

Information reported to the Census Bureau is held in strict confidence by law. The reports published are in terms of totals only. No information that would identify and individual or household is ever released.

Pattullo Named Grand Marshall Of Parade

Ex-Seaside Mayor, John M. Pattullo, 63, has been chosen Grand Marshal of the Seaside Independence Day Parade which will be held Sunday, 7th of July.

He was selected by a committee headed by his successor in office, former mayor Lou Haddad. In announcing Pattullo's selection, Haddad said that it has been customary to honor a person who has contributed to the betterment of the city through service or any other method which has materially benefitted Seaside.

Pattullo resides at 1280 Noche Buena in an old ranch house which was built on a promontory by its original owner many years ago to overlook the rest of the city, which at that time was a ranch.

Pattullo and his charming wife Della, and their two sons have lived in Seaside since 1948. He was largely responsible for activation of an incorporation committee which ultimately incorporated Seaside on October 11, 1954. At that time he was serving on the County Planning Commission where he gained invaluable experience which served him well when he was appointed to the city's Planning Commission after incorporation. He served as its chairman during the period when the city fathers made the bold decision to redevelop the community under the Urban Renewal Act. He was appointed to the City Council to complete the unexpired term of Beauford T. Anderson upon the latter's appointment to the office of mayor. When Anderson was elected to the county Board of Supervisors, Pattullo's council colleagues appointed him mayor in November, 1964. Due to business pressures, Pattullo chose not to campaign for his seat in 1966. He retired from politics at that time, but has remained available to serve his community in other capacities. It was during his tenure on the council that card rooms were eliminated in Seaside.

He has served on various citizens committees; was President of Little League; participated in both Little and Babe Ruth Leagues; served as a Director of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce; is a charter member of the Seaside Rotary Club, having served as its President; he is past Director of the State Independent Insurance Agents Assn.; served on the committee which chose the site for the Community Hospital, later serving on its Board of Directors.

Pattullo continues to serve his community as a member of the low-cost Housing Committee and the Housing Authority Commission of Monterey County. He is also a member of the Zone 11 water study committee.

Medical Center To Open New Clinic

The Natividad Medical Center is pleased to announce that on July 1, 1974, a new additional clinic area will be opened for patient use.

Almost all the specialty clinics will be conducted there. Ultimately, this area will also be the scene of Family Practice Clinics to be carried on by Family Practice Resident Physicians under the direction of Dr. Rex Whitworth.

In the meantime, and also in this clinic area, Family Practice clinics will be starting July 1. These will take place on Mondays and Thursdays from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. and will be conducted by a number of staff physicians, and on a strict appointment basis. Appointments to the Family Practice Clinic can be made by calling Natividad Medical Center, 424-2541, extension 295 or 296.

Patients are invited to utilize these clinics and, insofar as is possible, will be assigned to physicians of their choice. Follow-up visits may be arranged between the inpatient areas and the clinics, between the emergency and general clinics and the Family Practice Unit, and the Specialty Clinics and the Family Practice Unit.

At times other than Mondays and Thursdays from 11:00 to 4:00 p.m., patients and their families may present themselves for treatment and an attempt will be made to obtain for them the services of their designated physician. It must be understood, however, that this may not be possible because of the physician's other assignments; at such times the patients will be seen by other physicians in the general or emergency clinics.

Continued attempts will be made to obtain enough Spanish-speaking clinic employees to provide better service to numerous Spanish-speaking patients.

It should be emphasized that the present general clinic and emergency room will continue functioning as before and that the new clinic is an addition to and not a replacement for present clinics.

The hospital hopes in the above fashion to provide a more comfortable setting for its patients, to reduce the present over-crowding, to reduce the occasional lengthy waiting periods, and to provide better continuity of care. There will also be the improved possibility of providing effective medical care to patients who may be experiencing difficulty in obtaining such care.

The hospital administration welcomes the comments of patients who have utilized these new facilities, and will continuously strive to improve its services.

DeBerry Named To Commission

Seaside Mayor B.J. Dolan announced the appointment of Billy F. DeBerry, Principal of King Junior High School, to the Human Rights Commission.

Mr. DeBerry, a long time citizen of Seaside, is the President of the Seaside Kiwanis, (outgoing) and was recently elected Lt. Governor of the Kiwanis Clubs.

He was nominated and selected unanimously as "The Most Outstanding Young Man Of The Year" by the Monterey Peninsula Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"I deeply regret my inability to get Mr. DeBerry on the Parks and Recreation Commission," stated Cleve Williams, Seaside Parks & Recreation Director, "but the City has beat me to him, and they got a very outstanding young man."

Alliance on Aging To Extend Services Beyond Peninsula

The California Office on Aging has announced the funding of $7,290 to the Alliance on Aging to extend an existing information and referral program to senior citizens of the Monterey Peninsula. The program is designed to inform senior citizens about and refer them to available health care and other social services in the area.

According to Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, Director of the Office on Aging, "This program is intended to become a link between services and those who need them. As is the case in other areas of California, there is a need to overcome a lack of public awareness of available programs."

The funding supplied by the Office on Aging will finance operation of the program until the end of the calendar year. Stubblebine commented, "The funding is not intended to be continuous, but to help projects toward fiscal self-sufficiency."

Local organizations should recognize the need to support such services as this, to insure their continued effectiveness in the community."

The Alliance on Aging is headquartered on the Monterey Peninsula College campus and provides such services to the elderly as transportation, education, and a volunteer visitors program. It also operates an aggressive outreach campaign to initiate contact with persons in need of services.

The Office on Aging funding is granted under jurisdiction of Title III of the federal 1965 Older Americans Act.

State's New Small Business Office

By Frank Murphy Jr.
Assemblyman, 31st District

A California Small Business Office was recently formed to help the small businessman compete with large corporations for state business contracts.

The new office, a result of legislation which I supported last year, is designed to promote small business participation in contracts and procurements by maintaining lists of qualified bidders, assisting businessmen in meeting state requirements, and disseminating information about opportunities available to small firms.

Earl W. Erickson, chief of the newly formed office, stressed that "the small businessman can compete. We want to see that he gets his fair share."

Erickson said the office, itself, will be run "like any other small business," noting that his employees use cardboard boxes instead of trash cans to "keep us from getting too big for our britches."

The main goal of the office, according to Erickson, is "to help the small businessman do business with the state, while helping the state to do business with the small businessman."

The office was formed to ensure that a fair proportion of the total purchases, contracts, and subcontracts for property and services go to the state's small business concerns.

The office plans to help the small businessman prepare prequalification questionnaires and bid proposals. It will also explain the provisions of the State Contract Act, labor codes, subletting and subcontracting acts as they apply to construction, and the State Purchasing Act as it applies to state procurements.

The Small Business Office will also assist the various offices of state government to ensure that a fair proportion of their total purchases, contracts, and subcontracts for property and services go to small business concerns in California.

Erickson pointed out that the Small Business Office, in keeping with the spirit of small business enterprises, plans to administer "a strong program on time and within its budget."

If you are a small businessman and would like more information, contact: The Small Business Office, Room 535, 915 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, California 95814; telephone (916) 322-5060.

Fair Dates Nearing

With the Monterey County Fair dates getting closer, members of the board of directors, meeting June 18 in Monterey, made decisions involving such things as security and free bus service, and duly noted the July 1 deadline for entries in home arts, floriculture, FFA-4-H feature booths and junior livestock. June 29 is the deadline for entries for feature booths in the agricultural building.

Western Security was low bidder again this year, and was awarded a contract by the board which covers both the Fair (July 23-28) and the National Horse Show (Aug. 5-10).

Free bus service to the Fairgrounds this year will be extended to Marina and Fort Ord, as well as Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel, with the Monterey County Fair, in effect, providing free service to all bus riders in the area during the six days of the Fair. The Joint Powers Administration proposal will give this day and evening service for $4,146—which can be compared to the $4,600 paid last year for bus service which did not include Marina and Fort Ord.

"Youth" is the theme of the Fair this year, and a special feature will be the "fair within a fair" in Pattee Arena, with educational displays and exhibits by youth organizations of the county. Other Fair attractions include agricultural, home economics, art, crafts, floriculture and livestock exhibits, commercial exhibits, and the usual wide variety of foods.

City, County Get Tax Money

More than $88.6 million was distributed to California cities and counties in the June allocation of sales and use tax money received by the State Board of Equalization, Board Chairman George R. Reilly reported today.

California cities will receive $56.8 million, and counties $11.4 million, for a total of $68.2 million from their one percent share of the 6 percent (6-1/2 percent in Alameda, Contra Costa, and San Francisco Counties) sales and use tax which retailers collect from their customers. In addition, the counties will receive $16.8 million earmarked for county transportation purposes.

The City of Seaside will receive $43,599.80, and the County of Monterey will receive $123,311.63, plus $181,771.76 from the 1/4 percent county local transportation fund.

The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District will receive $3.6 million from an additional 1/2 percent transaction and use tax collected in the BART counties of Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco.

The grand total of $88.6 million represents the cleanup payment for the first quarter of 1974 plus the first advance payment for the second quarter of 1974.

The total amount collected for the comparable quarter of 1973 was $66.9 million. At that time, the tax was five percent.

Today's Army

NEWS

By

SFC Jose Garcia
ARMY RECRUITER

While the U.S. Army may be reducing its numbers it is not minimizing its missions and objectives. And today's Army is rich with opportunity for men and women.

In its 199 year history the Army has marched aggressively from the era of ball and musket into the age computer technology. And yet its mission, to defend the United States against aggression, foreign and domestic, has not changed and has never been failed.

In today's Army hundreds of thousands of men and women are training in over 400 vital career fields. While the three major frontline branches remain infantry, armor and artillery, the greater percentage of men and women in uniform are training to fill supporting roles for these branches.

And although the Army finds itself in a peace time posture it has not relaxed its intense readiness programs. Soldiers at posts around the world continue to follow carefully planned programs of instruction while at the same time working in their military specialties.

Also fading from the military scene are many of the unattractive sides of the Army. Gone are days of kitchen police or contending with crowded and drab barracks living conditions. Even basic training has undergone critical change. Considerably more emphasis is placed on meaningful training without undue harassment and pressure.

Opportunities for advancement and education are plentiful and paychecks continue to become healthier and healthier. Earlier this year nearly 100,000 Army men and women were taking advantage of education programs offered by the military.

On the distaff side, Women's Army Corps ranks are swelling by the thousands. It is, in fact, one of the military branches that has been marked for expansion rather than reduction. Enlistments are running high.

Women soldiers are also finding that all but a dozen career fields are open to them. Gone are the days when they could expect to find themselves restricted to jobs as clerks and stenographers.

Surprisingly too, enlistees voice nearly the same motives for joining as did their brothers and sisters years ago. Their reasons include job security, education, advancement and a healthy sprinkling of "red, white and blue."

Seasider Wins Top Kiwanis Scholarship

Steven T. Yorita was named winner of the Ray Baugh Memorial Scholarship by the Monterey Kiwanis Club at their luncheon on the wharf recently.

Yorita, who plans to attend UCLA to study engineering, was the top scholarship winner from the club this year. The award carries with it a prize of $500. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fumio Yorita of Seaside.

The award is named for the late Judge Ray Baugh who was a charter member of the Monterey Kiwanis Club and an active member until his death last month.

Four other Monterey High graduates of the class of '74 who reside in Seaside received Kiwanis Scholarships. They were: Patricia A. Kelley, $350; Darlene Concepcion, John Wolfer and Carolyn C. Korn, $200 each. Other students receiving awards at the luncheon included Beverly Nash of Del Rey Oaks, $300; Carolyn K. Beach $350; Irene Prekeges and Andrew Gleason all of Monterey, $200 each.

'The Drunkard' Opens At MPC On July 9

Casting for the Monterey Peninsula College Players production of "The Drunkard" has been completed and the play has been scheduled by the MPC Drama Department for a three-week run in the Standing Room Only - SRO - Theatre.

According to director Ron Boyer, "The Drunkard" will open Tuesday, July 9 at 8:30 p.m. Performances will continue July 10, 14, 16, 17, 21, 23, 24 and a final performance on Sunday, July 28.

Boyer said "The Drunkard" is the longest running play in American Theatre history. The Los Angeles production ran over 28 continuous years and is still playing, and another version of the production ran more than 50 years.

The story line circles around the young hero, Edward Middleton, who woo's and weds the lovely Mary Wilson. Lawyer Cribbs, aided by liquor and selfish desires, ruins Ed, who remorsefully flees to New York.

There on skid row his degradation is complete, but Mary, abandoned and a wretch, searches the city to find him. Arden Renecelaw saves Ed from his corruption, restores him to society. With the help of William Dowton and his half-crazed sister Agnes, Cribbs is defeated.

The cast of MPC Players in "The Drunkard" includes Steve Barnes as Edward Middleton, Mark Tanous as William Dowton, Dennis Deutsch as Lawyer Cribbs, Pat Terman as Mary Wilson, Faith Vanwoerkom as Mrs. Wilson, Jane Evans as Agnes Dowton, Richard Brassfield as Mr. Stevens, Bob Scanarello and Richard Andante as Loafers, Tara Morgenrath as Barmaid, and Billie Williams and Joanie Griggs as Bargirls.

The production is directed by Boyer, with assistant direction by Ms. Morgenrath. Eleanor Morrice is the production assistant, Sheila Deangelis is stage manager and choreography is by Ed Mooney.

Boyer said Saturday and Sunday matinees may be scheduled. Group rates of $1 per person will apply for groups of 15 persons or larger. Regular admission is $1 for students and military, $1.25 in advance and $1.50 general admission. For further information regarding matinee performances, or for reservations contact the MPC theatre box office at 375-0455.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Congressman Talcott:

This is an open letter to you, and I hope that you receive it in the spirit in which it is written.

When we re-elected you, you assumed certain definite responsibilities as our representative. However, in view of your recent public remarks suggesting that the President of the United States resign, you have violated our trust. I believe that in your re-election efforts you are thinking of your own personal interests first, the interest of your district and your state second, and least of all the welfare of our country, which, I think, is a complete reversal of your basic responsibilities. I, as a private citizen, can express my personal opinion on practically any subject. However, as long as you are our elected representative, you do not have the same basic freedom.

The above violation of your trust is especially critical at this time as you are well aware that the procedure of impeachment is in progress in the House of Representatives, and you, as a member of this house, are one of the jurors who will vote whether or not the House forwards its recommendation to the Senate, and you have, by your remarks publicly made, cast your vote before the basic facts have been presented to you.

This is true of any Senator or Congressman regardless of party, and whether they have publicly stated whether the President is innocent or guilty. All those who have done so have violated the trust of the people whom they represent.

You, as a member of the House of Representatives, will have to make an impartial and objective decision when the Judiciary Committee send its recommendation to the House.

We in America go on the assumption that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

I voted for you at the last election. However, I cannot in clear conscience vote for your re-election, and I hope every fair minded citizen of this district concurs with my thoughts.

Sincerely,
Dan Mark Petrakis

Editor:

A matter that has been disturbing me, and most sincerely has been disturbing a growing number of citizens, is the manner in which our City Councilman, Oscar Lawson, introduces himself in public.

Most of the times he begins with: "I'm Oscar Lawson, Administrative Assistant to Supervisor Roger Poyner, and Seaside City Councilman."

Does Mr. Lawson feel that the position of Administrative Assistant to a Supervisor dominates his position as a City Father?

This brings to light that maybe the citizens of Seaside made a mistake in electing Mr. Lawson to represent us. For we need someone that is proud of being a City Father. We don't need a rubber stamp of a Supervisor.

Could there be a conflict of interest? Is it not possible that the Supervisor is carrying an unusual amount of influence in our city government? And should an occasion arise where the city might take a position against the against the position of the County Supervisor, is there any doubt as to how this Councilman would vote?

This Councilman has been sent to represent the city at bodies from throughout the County, and he introduced himself as the Administrative Assistant to the Supervisor before telling the world he was a City Father from Seaside. Why does he have to mention the Administrative bit at all?

This is a matter of deep concern, and I am asking you to respond. I will be watching your paper for your views in this matter.

A Concerned Citizen

Editor:

The institution of private ownership of land in conjunction with untrustworthy public officials has been responsible for the exploitation of our coastal lands for the benefit of a few. In our atavistic socio-economic system the burden of course not dispensed equally, as a comparison of the usage of the Carmel and Monterey Bay coastlands will readily illustrate.

Scheming politicians have robbed Seaside of its beach, with the exception of an almost farcical 500 foot stretch. In view of the mandate to protect the coast against capitalistic marauders, it could be expected that under the trusteeship of the regional Coastal Zone Conservation Commission this minuscule beach would be safe from detrimental developments. In reality, however, the Commission is expected to produce only a feeble, pro forma protest against the construction of a motel and restaurant complex that is presently in the planning stage.

Opposition is probably futile, as is revealed by the apartment complexes, Holiday Inn, NPGS blight, sewage plants and Calabrese dump that grace the beach already, but it is infuriating that local officials continue to be lackeys for out-of-town asphalters. It is an outrage that Mayor Dolan of Seaside, whose record marks him as insensitive to conservation, is a member of the regional Commission.

We must draw a line for the Commission against the kind of horsetrading that preserves one area at the expense of another. The people of the Peninsula should recognize that what injures Seaside, injures the Peninsula.

News In Brief

Chairman Hugo Gerstl's office at 666 Camino Aguajito, Monterey. Key agenda item is election of a new chairman and vice-chairman. Those nominated are: for chairman: Arthur Lomas, Irene Serrano and Charles Drummond - for vice-chairman: Lucious Stroud, Arthur Lomas and Sally Gutierrez.

Also included is a request for a 3 month contract extension by the Alliance on Aging.

Bennett stated that since this meeting is the last of the first two years, he intends to report on "the impossible that has been accomplished" and "project into the future where the commission can lead the disadvantaged community."

Chairman Gerstl, while relinquishing the reins, is still urging the public to be interested in the work of the Community Services Commission and attend the meeting. Gerstl noted that with a budget of almost half a million dollars of federal taxpayers money he expected more interest from community people at the commission meetings.

The final performances of the Tennessee Williams drama, "Out Cry," will end the play's three-week run in Monterey Peninsula College's Standing Room Only SRO - Theatre. Final play dates will be Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, June 28 - 30 at 8:30 p.m.

According to director Dennis Deutsch "the play deals with reality and fantasy as two actors on tour, brother and sister, find themselves deserted by their troupe in a decrepit state theatre in an unknown state."

"Faced perhaps by an audience expecting a performance, they enact the 'Two-Character Play', an illusion within an illusion, an outcry from isolation, panic and fear," he said.

The cast of MPC Players include Ben Leudtke as "Felice, the brother" and Tara Pine Morgenrath as "Clare, the sister." Tickets are $1.50 general, $1.25 in advance, and $1 for students and military. Reservations can be made through the MPC Theatre Box Office at 375-0455.

Bicentennial Influencing New Furniture Styles

Home furnishings designers are delving deeply into this country's heritage for styling inspirations which will be seen in furniture stores this fall and winter.

"The American Bicentennial is exerting a significant influence on furniture fashions this year," according to Northern Coast Furniture World Inc. "Colonial, Early American and other traditional stylings are blending together into a comfortable, easy look called 'country casual.' The look is simpler, less ornate, less dependent on embellishments."

"Modern furnishings are another area where stylists are making headway," Northern Coast Furniture World Inc. commented. "The lines are getting softer, plumper, more comfortable. Colors are clear and materials are youthful."

The floor coverings market, he went on, is showing even more innovations than it has in the past. New printing and tufting techniques, fiber advances and fresh uses of color assure the consumer her floor coverings dollar, even in an inflationary era, will go further, he stated.

About 10,000 home furnishings buyers from all over the country will attend the Mart's semi-annual 'trade event. They'll shop 450 showrooms representing 3,000 lines of furniture, bedding, floor coverings, lamps and decorative accessories.

High School Jazz Winners Announced

Winners of the 4th Annual California High School Jazz Band Competition, held earlier this month in Monterey, were announced recently.

The winning band was from Eagle Rock High School in Los Angeles, conducted by John Rinaldo. The Eagle Rock band competed against nine other bands chosen from over thirty high school jazz bands throughout California. The top ten bands traveled to Monterey Peninsula College for the final competition on Saturday, June 8.

The event is sponsored each year by the Monterey Jazz Festival in cooperation with Monterey Peninsula College. The Monterey Jazz Festival, a non-profit corporation, subsidizes the competition from its grants and scholarship funds.

The winning entry from Eagle Rock was chosen best of three finalists by a select panel of professional jazz musicians and educators. Other finalists were Mira Loma High School in Sacramento and Corona High School, Corona.

The youthful Eagle Rock band has been invited to appear at the 17th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival set for September 20, 21, 22.

Five high school jazz combos also competed for honors in the competition. Selected top combo was Grant Union High School in Sacramento, for the second time in two years. The Grant combo has also been asked to perform at this year's Monterey Jazz Festival. Conducting the Grant combo was Ike Paggett.

In addition, a number of outstanding individual musicians from high schools in California have been named to the all star band which will perform with professional jazz musicians at the September Festival. Students selected for the all star band are:

Trumpets: Mike Ernst, Coronado; Roger Ingram, Eagle Rock; Kevin Bartlett, La Sierra High School, Carmichael; Kevin Mason, Bonita High School, La Verne; Rick Speicher, La Sierra.

Trombones: Bill Snyder, Bonita, Steve Holtman, Corona; Bruce Holloway, Ygnacio Valley High School, Concord; Charles Morillas, Pleasant Hill High School, Holmwood, Corona.

Alto saxophones: Doug Rinaldo, Eagle Rock; Leslie Nitta, Sacramento Senior High School.

Tenor saxophones: Dwayne Smith, Granada High School, Livermore; Marc Russo, Pleasant Hill.

Drums: Carlos Vega, Eagle Rock.

Percussion: Rick Jensen, Eagle Rock.

Guitar: Joe Movich, Bonita. Piano: Terry Lowe, Granada.

Snyder, Rinaldo, Hypes, Smith and Vega are all repeats from last year's all star band.

The all star band will be joined by Dizzy Gillespie, Gerry Mulligan, Ladd McIntosh and Chuch Mangione. It will be performing, among other selections, concert jazz pieces written by Mangione.

Additionally, awards were given to outstanding instrumentalists at the competition. They are:

Trombone, Bill Snyder, Bonita.

Guitar, Joe Movich, Bonita.

Vibraphone, Rick Jensen, Eagle Rock.

Saxophone, Doug Rinaldo, Eagle Rock.

Bass, Greg Cavillo, Eagle Rock.

Drums, Carlos Vega, Eagle Rock.

Trumpet, Rick Speicher, La Sierra.

Snyder and Vega were selected for the second straight year.

NPS Dean Elected VP of Operations Research Society of America

Dr. Jack R. Borsting, Academic Dean of the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS), was recently elected vice president-president-elect of the Operations Research Society of America. Dr. Borsting will serve as vice president during the period 1974-75, and president of the society during 1975-76.

The Operations Research Society of America is a national society of more than 8,000 professionals who are engaged in the profession of operations research. The members of the society come from universities, industry and government. Dean Borsting has served for the last years as secretary of the society.

Prior to becoming secretary, he was a council member for three years. He has also served as chairman of the education committee, director of the visiting lectureship program, and chairman of the ad hoc rules and bylaws and constitution committee. He has also served as a member of several other society committees.

Dr. Borsting attained his doctoral degree from the University of Oregon in mathematical statistics. Prior to assuming his present post at NPS, he was professor and chairman of the Department of Operations Research and Administrative Science.

A past president of the Military Operations Research Society, Dr. Borsting is also a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is a member of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, The American Statistical Association, The Institute of Management Science, and Sigma Xi. He has been a visiting distinguished professor at Oregon State University and a visiting professor at the University of Colorado.

U-Turn Law To Change

A new law taking effect July 1, 1974, will permit California motorists to make a U-turn at a green light or a green arrow signal unless the intersection is posted with a sign specifically prohibiting U-turns.

State Director of Motor Vehicles Robert Cozens explained that the previous law banned U-turns unless a sign was visible saying "U-turn OK."

Cozens said that the new law brings California into conformity with most other states and should clear up much of the confusion that exists, especially with out-of-state drivers. He added that the change was recommended by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

He stated that in the past the U-turn regulation was one of the most commonly violated traffic laws.

He cautioned drivers that until July 1, however, they must continue to observe the "U-turn OK" sign at signalized intersections. After that date, U-turns will be legal unless a sign is posted stating "No U-turn."

Cozens anticipates that state, county and city officials will remove the old permissive signs immediately on July 1 and will place the prohibitive "No U-turn" signs at intersections where traffic engineers determine that the move may be hazardous.

C of C Report

CONSUMER AFFAIRS...WHAT TO DO ABOUT YOUR COMPLAINT!!

Have you felt like complaining recently about something you bought, a service you purchased, a car you had repaired? Well, if you did, you have a lot of company, for consumer affairs has become an important part of our way of life.

Many people call the Chamber of Commerce and ask for the Better Business Bureau. We do not have a BBB here on the Peninsula, nor in the County; the closest Better Business Bureau is located in San Jose. So, what do you do about your complaint? Most of the Chambers of Commerce are currently handling the complaints for their own members. That is, we call our members when there is a complaint and try to get a settlement between the angry customer and the business manager. This usually works.

If the business is not a member, we have been sending people to the Consumer Affairs Function, under the Department of Weights and Measures, that was set up by the County in Salinas to help handle complaints and consumer fraud.

The Consumer Affairs Function is very similar to a Better Business Bureau in that they try to mediate between the consumer and the businessman or vice versa. First they check to be sure the consumer has contacted the business, which customers don't always do first. If no satisfaction is reached through discussion, a written complaint is sent to the business person with a form letter from the Consumer Affairs Function. Usually, the problem is resolved at this point.

If the letter doesn't work, the Consumer Affairs Function may try to phone and try to get more directly involved in solving the problem. If nothing else works, it may end up in Small Claims Court, where the judge makes the decision.

The C.A.F. was started on May 15, 1973, and they have received a total of 1,049 complaints, some of which have resulted in over $30,000 in returned money. The average money returned per complaint is $25.

There has been a noticeable improvement in business management and public relations of businesses concerned.

The Better Business Bureau is currently thinking of putting a branch office in Salinas to serve Monterey County. The BBB is a private organization, which charges dues from its member firms. The Consumer Affairs Function is a government Agency formed by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors. It will continue regardless of the establishment of a Better Business Bureau. The BBB differs from the C.A.F. since it surveys the business community and does give out recommendations. C.A.F. does not. The BBB also has the power to act as an arbitrator, which means that it the customer and the business person both agree and put it in writing that they will stand by the verdict of the arbitrator, then an impartial person acts as judge and decides who will win the argument.

If you have a problem or need advice on buying a product, be sure to call the Seaside Chamber of Commerce and we will try to help you. Better to play it safe than to be sorry. The Consumer Affairs Function telephone number in Salinas is 1-724-2478. The Seaside Chamber is 394-6501.
